

About the Program

The two-day Teaching on the Run (TOTR) program for senior clinicians, supervisors and educators is a professional development package that incorporates six workshops – Clinical Teaching; Skills Teaching; Assessment Fundamentals; Planning Learning; Effective Group Teaching; Supporting Learners – which are designed to enable participants who are involved in clinical teaching, supervision and assessment to apply sound teaching and learning principles in their workplace environment.

Format

The program is delivered in ‘blended format’ meaning that part of the program material must be completed online. This reduces the time required for the face-to-face component of the program.

- The program is suitable for senior registrar level and above. The program is suitable for all types of health professionals including nurses and allied health workers.

Participants

- A certificate of attendance will be provided to participants who attend all components of the program.

Certification

- A fee of $690 (GST inclusive) per participant will be charged to cover the cost of the program delivery (facilitated sessions, materials, workbooks, venue and catering).
